

The Skies Open

Clear skies can be deceiving in these ancient lands. When the rain falls here, it doesn't just soak the earth?it awakens the wild.

"Leo: Whoa! Where did this storm come from? So much for a peaceful trek!"

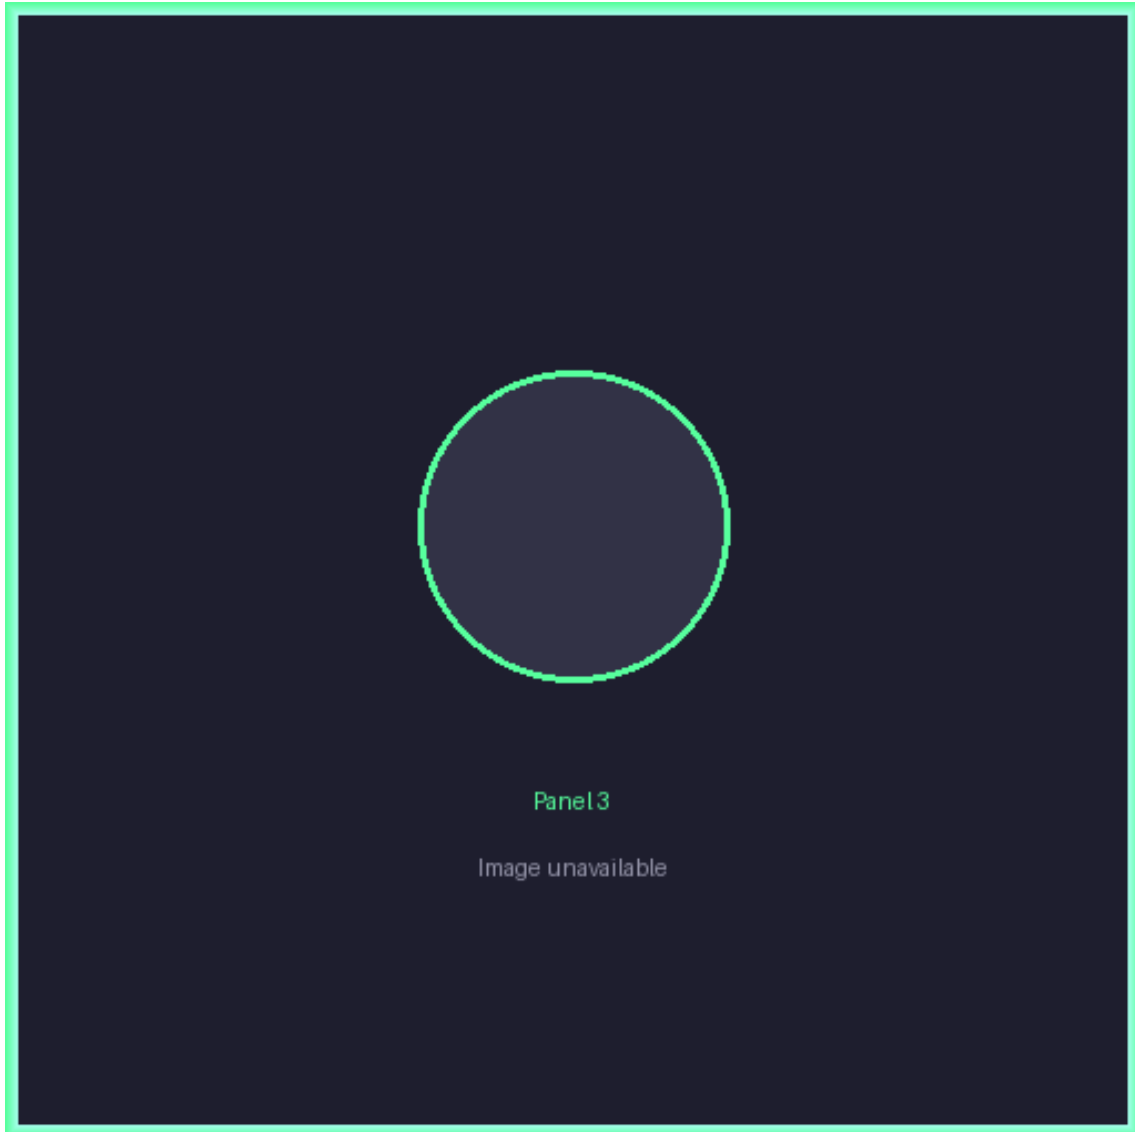

Hidden Ruin

Seeking shelter under the massive roots, Leo finds something far greater than protection from the storm.

"Leo: Hold on... is that a stone archway? These blue markings... they're glowing!"

Awakening Flora

The torrential downpour acts as a key, nourishing latent magical flora that has slumbered beneath the soil for centuries.

"Leo: Unbelievable... The rain is making them bloom instantly! It feels... warm."

Guardian of the Deluge

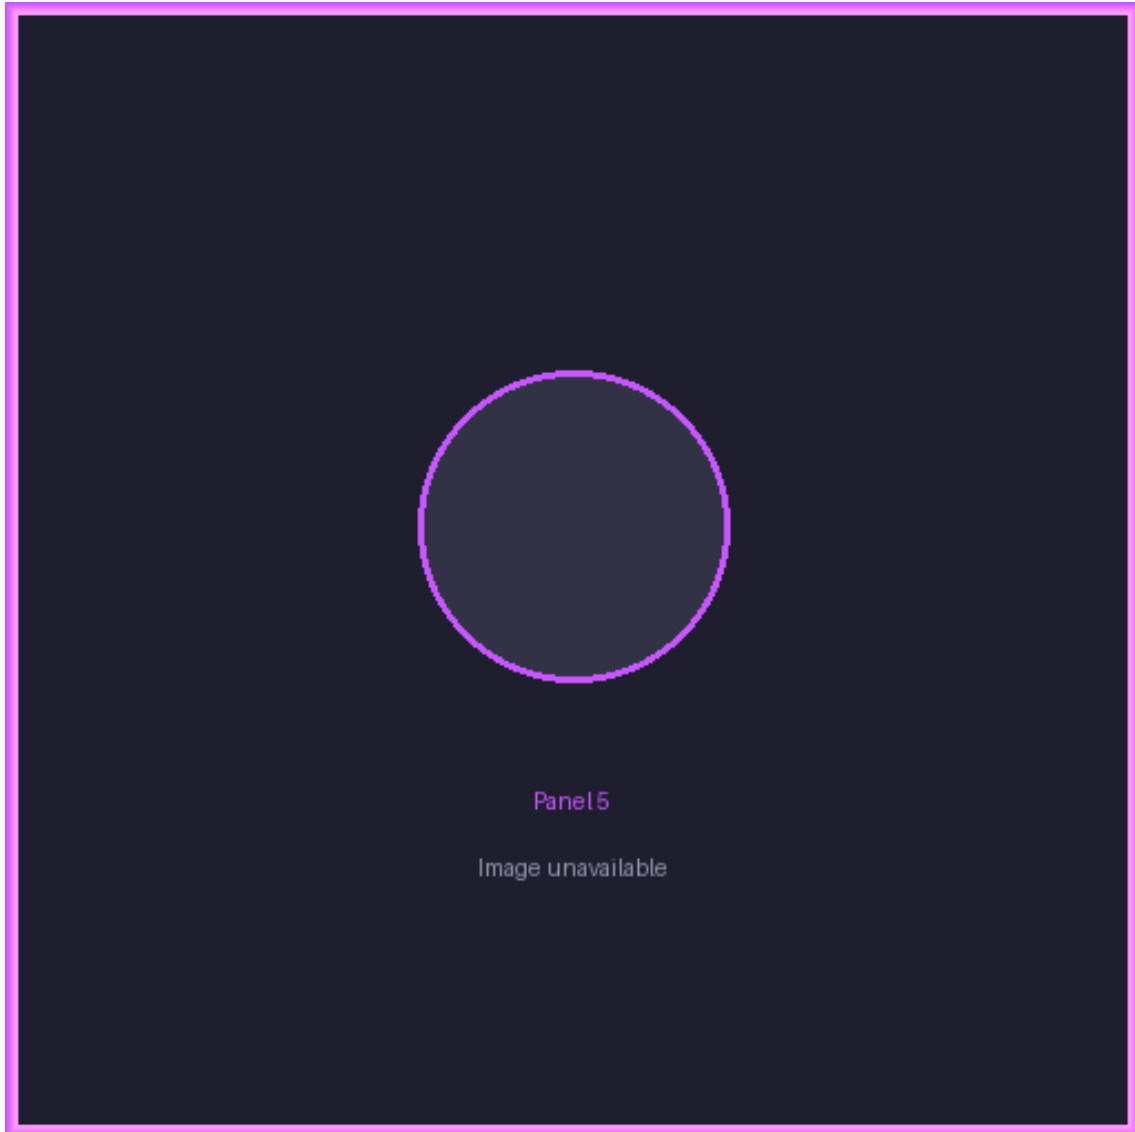

Great power never remains unguarded. From the rising torrent, a sentinel of vines and pure spring water materializes.

"Spirit: State your purpose, traveler! Only those proven worthy may cross the Sacred Threshold!

Leo: A challenge? You clearly don't know who you're dealing with!"

Into the Unknown

With rain in his hair and fire in his heart, Leo leaps fearlessly into the light of a grand new adventure.

"Leo: A spirit guardian and a secret portal? Now THIS is what I signed up for! Let's do this!"
